

26th SRA-E Annual Meeting/Conference, Lisbon, June 19-21 2017

Abstracts submission is now open!

The SRA-Europe conference provides a platform to discuss the ‘state of the art’ and future directions in the inter-disciplinary study and application of risk analysis. The focus will be on understanding concerns about risk from both public and scientific perspectives, developing effective risk assessment, management and communication, and promoting efficient risk mitigation and resilient societies.

This conference is therefore an opportunity for academics, policy makers and practitioners to gather and discuss issues, problems, goals, solutions and future research questions in this domain. Colleagues, perspectives and applications from around the world are welcomed!

We accept abstracts and presentations in English, in the following formats:

1. Symposia (group): Represents a group of individual oral presentations (Minimum: 3 presentations; Maximum: 5 presentations) by one or more authors each, organized around one common topic + one short symposium introduction by the coordinator + symposium Q&A/discussion. Symposia duration: 90min (max.)
2. Oral presentations (individual): Represents one individual oral presentation by one or more authors + Q&A/discussion for all presentations at the session’s end. Individual presentation duration: 15min (max.)
3. Poster presentations (individual): Represents one individual written presentation by one or more authors + individual Q&A/discussion of the poster.

Presentations may include: empirical research results; critical reviews of risk analysis theories and methods; scenario building, simulations and modelling; systematic literature reviews and meta-analyses; case studies; experts, stakeholders and policy makers’ perspectives.

Abstracts must be submitted by January 16, 2017. For more information on the abstracts submission please see the following website: <https://sraelisbon2017.wordpress.com/abstracts-submission/>

We thank you very much for considering presenting your work at the 26th SRA-E Annual Meeting/Conference and look forward to seeing you in Lisbon!
